DEBATERS LOOK FOR SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Trustee Subsidy Assures More Interest in Prize Speaking

TRI-CORNERED DEBATE MAR. 16

Sen. W. P. Dillingham Offers Data On Immigration Question

The action of the trustees of the college, who at their meeting in New York City January 28th voted to substantially increase the fund awarded as prizes to those who participate in the Parker and Merrill prize speaking contests, held each spring, and the guarantee of the college authorities to meet the expenses of debating to the extent of $200 will mean the enlargement and better development of public speaking and debating at Middlebury.

The trustees voted to spend $260 annually for prizes in the Parker and Merrill contests, increasing the prizes in the Parker contest from $30 a year to one hundred and thirty dollars, and raising the Merrill prizes from seventy dollars annually to one hundred and thirty. The Parker contest is limited to Freshmen and the Merrill contest is restricted to Sophomores.

Contests on Different Evenings

The two contests, which in previous years have been held on the same evening, will be held this year on separate evenings, and each will be combined with a musical program. The terms of the two contests will be identical. There will be eight speakers in each contest and the prizes in each will be: 1st prize $50.00, 2nd prize $35.00, $3rd prize $25.00, and fourth prize $20.00. This substantial increase in the prizes will in itself be a considerable incentive for students to participate, but the plan approved by the Faculty as to the nature of the contest should still further stimulate interest. This year all speeches will be original, and the prizes will be awarded on the basis of both thought and delivery.

The contestants will be chosen by a preliminary contest in which they will give a five-minute original speech before a committee of the Faculty who will select the speakers. The preliminary contest for the freshmen will be held in the near future. The Parker contest will be held shortly after the Easter recess and the Merrill contest during Junior Week. Arrangements for the contest are under the direction of Professor W. E. Davison, who will have charge of the coaching.

Debating Plans Progress

In debating arrangements have been completed, with the exception of the appointment of judges, for the holding of a triangular debate with St. Lawrence University, and the University of Vermont the 16th of March upon the question:—"That European immigration should be further restricted by Federal action." Under the accepted plan the negative team of each college will go away, debating with the affirmative team of the institution which they are visiting. Middlebury's negative team will go to St. Lawrence, meeting the St. Lawrence affirmative team. Vermont will send her negative team to Middlebury, while the negative team of St. Lawrence will go to Burlington. The debates will all be held on the same night.

Work upon the question has been under way for about a month, and the candidates for the team are making

MIDDLEBURY FOURTH AT DARTMOUTH

Takes Total of Four Points at Annual Winter Meet

COLE PLACES IN DISTANCE RUN

McGill Wins Meet from Dartmouth ---Vermont Gets Third

Middlebury's representation of seven men repeated the performance of its forerunners of a year by capturing four points and the title of fourth place at the annual Dartmouth Winter Carnival, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, at Hanover. McGill's strong delegation from the slopes of Mount Royal annexed a total of 38 points and won the meet from Dartmouth who was credited with 24 in the final accounting. The other entrants, Vermont and Williams, took third and last place respectively with totals of five and one. The meet was one of the most successful in the history of Dartmouth Carnivals and was attended by nearly seven hundred, counting contestants and spectators.

On a comparative basis Middlebury's showing last week was not up to the standard of that set a year ago. With a team of six Middlebury won eleven points at that time while last week, despite the addition of another man, the total fell to four. This, however, can be attributed in a large measure to the lack of previous training which had been hindered by the meagre fall of snow. Members of the Outing Club have been making the best of the heavy snow-fall over the week-end and the staging of the inter-class meet Saturday will provide good training for the University of Vermont and McGill meets next week, at one or both of which Middlebury will probably be represented.

Vermont Wins Relay

With the exception of the ski-jumping contest in which Cole '22 was a contestant, all of the events in which Middlebury men were entered, took place Friday. Peck '24 was looked upon as a strong contender in the 200-yard ski dash, one of the early events, because of the ease with which he defeated Carleton, Dartmouth. In the finals however, he was disqualified through losing a ski. Middlebury took one point in the half-mile intercollegiate relay race when a team composed of Peck '24, Brigham '21, Noonan '21 and Hall '22 finished third. The University of Vermont representatives made a strong showing in this event and carried off first honors, McGill coming in second and Dartmouth fourth.

Cole Second in Cross Country

One of the most grilling events of the meet was the cross-country snowshoe race over a two-mile course Friday afternoon. Creelman, McGill, finished first in 14 minutes and 38 seconds, Cole, Middlebury, taking second and Fowler, Dartmouth, third.

A large part of Saturday afternoon was given over to the ski-proficiency contests in the Vale of Tempe in which the Montreal team was slightly superior to the Dartmouth representatives. Other athletic events of the week-end included inter-collegiate hockey, swimming and basketball matches.

Two new registrants during the week were De Voux and Livingstone de Lancey, of Brandon, in the Class of 1924. Both men are transfers from Cornell University.

THREE FRATERNITIES HOLD PLEDGE DAY

Chi Psi, D. K. E. and D. U. Take Total of 25 Friday

YEAR'S TOTAL NOW FORTY-TWO

Only Three Observed Second Semester Plan

The curtain fell on the formal rushing season for the men's fraternities Friday when three fraternities, Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon and Delta Upsilon who were observing a prolonged rushing season, pledged a total of 25 men, all but three of whom were members of the incoming class. Pledging by these three organizations, despite their technical break with the Inter-fraternity Council last June, was under the direction of that body and in strict conformity with the regulations which have governed former pledge days.

With last Friday's pledges the total for the college year is brought up to forty-two, the Alpha Sigma Phi and Kappa Delta Rho fraternities having taken in ten and seven men respectively to date. Last week's pledging was divided among the three fraternities as follows: Chi Psi—7, D. K. E.—9 and D. U.—9.

NEW YORK ALPHA CHI HOLD ANNUAL LUNCHEON

The New York Alumni of Alpha Chi held their annual luncheon and meeting at the Hotel McAlpin, New York City, Saturday, January 29th. The officers elected for the coming year were Miss Beatrice Taft (1900) chairman of the Association and Mrs. Sumner D. Harrison (Margaret Harris) (1918) secretary. Plans were made for other informal gatherings during the year.

VERMONT WINS FROM MIDDLEBURY 35-21

Home Team Severely Menaced by Loss of Leonard and Lacy

HEATH AND DAVIS PLAY WELL

Vermont Rally in Second Period Decides Contest

Handicapped by the loss of two regulars but fighting hard Middlebury went down in defeat to Vermont Saturday evening on the Burlington floor by a score of 35-21. The first half was fast and see-sawed back and forth with both teams alternately taking the lead. By the second half, however, Middlebury seemed to feel the weight of its handicap and the Vermont offensive began to recover from the surprise of the hard fight in the first half with the result that the Green quintet ran up a large score and soon after the beginning of the last period had assured them victory.

Blue Best in First Half

In the first period Davis and Hardy went on a rampage and scored three baskets in quick succession, Davis getting two especially pretty long shots from the floor while Hardy followed soon after with another basket. Heath was shooting the fouls for Middlebury and in this period made seven out of a possible ten baskets from free tries. The Middlebury defense was almost air-tight in this period.

Harris was Vermont's best point winner throughout the game. In the first period he accounted for ten of the eighteen points made with three goals from the floor and four out of a possible ten baskets from fouls. Heiffer, the Vermont captain, accounted for two baskets from the floor while Stevens and Marr each made one.

Vermont Rallies in Last Half

The second period started with a rally by Vermont and in a few minutes the Green and Gold had rolled up a lead which Middlebury never seriously threatened. Middlebury shot repeatedly in this half but seemed unable to find the basket. Captain Heath shot a perfect string of four goals from fouls and Davis came through with another basket from the floor, the only one scored by Middlebury in this period.

Captain Heiffer, Stevens and Harris of Vermont each made two baskets from the floor and seemed to find holes in the Middlebury defense which in the first period they had found so strong. Harris also tightened up in his foul shooting and made a perfect run of three. By the middle of the half Vermont had begun to substitute and the game was a settled affair. Poirer who went in for Stevens, made a basket from the floor in the last few minutes of play.

The whole game from start to finish was fast and interesting and while Vermont had a team which was wonderful on the offense, with the five Middlebury regulars playing the brand of basketball used against Norwich the result would probably have been different. Timberman and Sikorski who took the places of Leonard and Lacey played steady games and the playing of Heath and Davis, the only veterans left to the crippled squad featured. Hardy played his usual steady game.

A Worthy Cause

On Friday evening of this week, the local Y. W. C. A. is to employ an unprecedented method of raising funds for the use of the organization. The special need in this instance is the meeting of the expenses of the Maqua delegates next June. Since the location for the annual convention has been changed from Silver Bay to Camp Maqua, the traveling expenses of delegates have necessarily increased.

The bazaar which has been planned will be the first affair of the kind ever given in the college gymnasium. It is also the first attempt which the Y. W. C. A. has ever made to include the whole college in a social event of any sort. To make the affair a success, the cooperation of faculty, students, and townspeople is urgent. A strong Y. W. C. A. association is an indispensable asset to a college community, but without hearty financial support, such an organization is greatly handicapped. Attendance at the bazaar will mean therefore, not only genuine enjoyment of the program offered, but also the personal satisfaction of knowing that one has contributed to the furthering of a worthy cause.

Debating

Debating at Middlebury does not occupy the place which it deserves. The seemingly most logical solution lies in a fuller recognition by undergraduates of the opportunities incumbent in this activity.

Debating is not spectacular and college support of it is seldom strong. It follows that any successful appeal for student support must hold out something more tangible by way of reward than the plaudits of those attracted to the one or two seasonal appearances of a picked team. It is no less true, however, that when students undertake to disparage the idea of 'varsity debates their fulminations are invariably based upon faulty standards of worth. In the outside world, and rightly so, debating is everywhere meeting with increased approval on the grounds that it is a definite evidence of educational activity and one which has certain recognizable merits possessed by no other. All efforts to enlarge the scope of the several agencies in our midst for such instruction are, therefore, doubly commendable.

The Middlebury-St. Lawrence contests of last year reestablished debating here after an interval of several years of inaction covering the war period. Since then, largely through the instrumentality of those who contributed to last season's success, several additional facilities have been provided for students who are desirous of improving their argumentative powers. The College is now offering a full-year course in debating which covers the fundamentals of speaking and consists entirely of practical work. The Wetherell Debating Club meets Friday evenings and affords opportunity for informal discussion on problems of nation-wide importance. An adequate rounding off of the season's program will be provided by the three-cornered match with Vermont and St. Lawrence universities arranged for March 16th.

Debating offers the most accessible and practical medium for schooling an individual in the rudiments of public speaking—a part of the equipment essential to a balanced course of study. It prepares a man to sell his wares, to carry his case at the bar, to establish his point in the directorate chamber, or to meet with success as a teacher. Aside from the training in forcible argumentation, debating instills a thorough comprehension of the methods for careful research, as well as the organizing of information in a presentable fashion, with strict conformity to the rules of logic. It would be to the distinct advantage of all who desire to improve their power to reason or to analyze and present facts, to become actively associated with one or more of the several local agencies for practice in debating.

FRANK G. CLARK '64

Word has been received of the death of Frank G. Clark '64 at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on February 3, suffering from a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Clark was widely known as the pioneer attorney of Cedar Rapids and upon his death the Iowa State Legislature immediately passed resolutions in his memory. He is survived by four sons and one daughter.

Mr. Clark was born in Vermont in 1838 and was a student in Middlebury College when the Civil War broke out. He enlisted in Company G, Sixteenth Vermont volunteer infantry and was subsequently promoted to the first lieutenancy of the same regiment. His regiment served in the stirring campaign of 1863 which culminated in the Battle of Gettysburg, where Lieutenant Clark's men contributed their full share in repulsing the last desperate assault on Cemetery Hill.

After graduation, by special permission with his class of '64, from Middlebury Mr. Clark studied law in the office of Governor Washburn at Woodstock, Vt., where he was admitted to the bar in 1866.

He was senior partner of the firm of Clark and Clark when he died. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

Vesper Service

The speaker at Sunday Vespers was Rev. E. B. Holmes of Middlebury. The text was from Exodus 23:25, "Ye shall serve the Lord your God." By comparison with ancient and modern times he showed how difficult a task it was to establish a nation. The speaker traced the difficulties of Moses in ruling the Hebrew nation, and of Washington in setting up and maintaining a republic, and showed that both these great leaders considered religion and faith in God essential to successful government. And in the present days, too, we must have faith in God, our highest authority, for if we fail in respect to the highest authority, we are sure to fail in loyalty to the lesser authority of a man-made government.

The Periscope

The marks are out and we gather that we will be permitted to stay within these w. k. college halls another semester at least.

Whatever one says about the Chicago Stock Yards located on our fair campus south of the Chemistry Building, one must at least concur with F. W. C. who calls the hockey rink "a wonderful tribute to implicite Faith."

The Science Department doped it out and came forward with the encouraging report that, "not allowing for leakage," the work ought to be completed and the rink sufficiently flooded by the latter part of May or the first of June.

The blessed cold spell came as a timely succor to our fading hopes. We cannot,—we will not lose Faith! We are as "Aristotle" who swears he will learn to ski if he "lives long enough".

Sounds Suspicious

Too bad we couldn't have held Pledge Day the Third over three days and scheduled it for the Fourteenth. Then we should have sent out heart-shaped bids to the freshmen, thereby setting a new fashion.

In answer to the query as to why The Periscope appears where it does every week, the theory has been advanced that it has been placed there to explain the reader's conduct when reading Ye Ed.'s worthy editorials.

We offer as kindly suggestion to the Debating Club, "To Toddle or Not to Toddle," as a subject which would draw the crowds.

"The Most Unkindest Cut of All"

Cole '22, reading minutes at the Outing Club meeting, "The following committees were chosen: Ski Jump, --a--er, I have left this blank".

Persistent member, "Who's the blank?"

Brigham '21 (supplying the information), "Wade."

We have come to realize that the human anatomy of a freshman is indeed a wonderful mechanism. Pat one on the back and it makes his head swell.

Sister Susie

He could not say her name.
He had a beastly stutter—
But he called her Oleomargarine,

And the Swimming Pool?

"Alumni who visit us next Commencement cannot fail to be pleased at the changed appearance of Old Painter. With the new library in the north division and the gymnasium and reading room in the south, the inside presents quite a changed appearance, while the porticos greatly enhance its looks from without."—The Undergraduate, May 1882.

From the opinion that some people have of themselves we would say that they are not very good judges of human nature. And it is our own personal opinion that some people who protest that they don't get all they deserve should really congratulate themselves.

One thing more we can say for our Home State! If Middlebury were located in New Jersey we would have had a holiday on the twelfth.

Home Economics Meeting

A meeting of the Home Economics Club was held Friday evening at the Alpha Chi House. After a short business meeting the main part of the evening was given over to work for the Y. W. C. A. Bazaar. Senorita Maria de Onate gave several piano selections, after which refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held in Pearsons social hall on February twenty-fourth.

Dr. MacRae on Near East Relief

Dr. A. C. Mac Rae, of Pennsylvania State College, who is connected with the Near East Relief Commission, made a brief appeal for student support of this work at the Chapel service Friday morning. Dr. Mac Rae was a member of the First Division, United States Army, during the war period and has since spent considerable time in Turkey and the Balkan States.

Y. W. C. A. BAZAAR TO BE HELD FRIDAY EVENING

Home-made Articles on Sale—Entertainment Varied

From seven to eleven o'clock in the McCullough Gymnasium next Friday evening, February 18, the Y. W. C. A. of the college will present a bazaar at which varied entertainment will be provided.

Five attractively decorated booths, containing food, candy, ice cream, punch and fancy work, will occupy the sides of the gymnasium. At the food table home made cakes, pies, cookies and doughnuts will be offered for sale. At the candy booth there will be all sorts of home made confections. Ice cream and punch will be available throughout the evening. The Arts and Crafts table will display Middlebury pillows, aprons, collar and cuff sets, kewpies dressed in fraternity colors and many other novelties. In one part of the gymnasium, girls dressed in yama-yama suits, representing the grab-bag, will distribute mysteriously wrapped packages at a small price.

The entertainment of the evening will include a play, several vocal duets by girls in costume, a chorus dance, and music by an accomplished orchestra.

The cast of characters for the play "The Happy Day", a comedy revolving around the trials of a bride on her wedding day, is as follows:

Mrs. Marlowe—Margaret Billings
Anne Loring—Barbara Browning
Sybil Marlowe, the bride—Helen Bolton
Kitty Fern, a dressmaker—Emma Schaefer
Opal Neff, a society reporter—Mary Williams
Mrs. Tatlock, a country relation—Ann Littlefield
Polly Tatlock, her daughter—Ona Ladd

PROFESSOR BRYANT SPEAKS AT FACULTY CLUB MEETING

The Faculty Club held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening in the Physics Room of Warner Science Hall. The speaker of the evening was Professor E. C. Bryant who explained the method by which Professor Michelson measured the star, Bedelgeuse. Owing to the immense distance of this star from the earth the ordinary methods of measuring celestial bodies were useless in this case.

Professor Michelson has devised new and entirely original method of measuring this star based upon very minute measurements of the light waves coming through the lens of a telescope. Professor Bryant's explanation of this feat was very clear and illuminating and was greatly appreciated by the members of the club. The ladies of the Faculty and the wives of faculty members were special guests of the evening.

FROSH RETAIN LEAD IN CLASS SERIES

Defeat Seniors Easily 24-13; Juniors Swamp Sophomores 44-13 Clever Passing Wins

Interclass Basketball Standing

	G.	W.	L.	Pct.
Freshmen	6	5	1	.833
Juniors	6	4	2	.666
Sophomores	6	3	3	.500
Seniors	6	0	6	.000

The freshmen and the juniors won in the games of the Inter-Class series, Thursday. The frosh took the seniors into camp to the tune of 24-3 and the juniors won from the sophomores with a score of 44-13. Clever passing won both games.

The junior-sophomore game gave indication of being close and hotly contested in the first few minutes of play, but the clever passing combination of the juniors was more than their opponents could solve. Hard, rough playing characterized the contest but the sophomores played a wild game and were inclined to individual work. In the first half, Kalin dropped in two neat long shots and also one in the second half. White also helped to bring up the sophomore score by his accurate shooting on free shots, scoring five foul shots and one goal from the floor. All the juniors took a hand in the scoring, Lane and Crew leading with six baskets each.

The summary:

Sophomores (13)		Juniors (44)
Kalin, rf.,	lf.,	Crew
Quackenbush, lf.,	rf.,	Lane
White, c,	c,	Reinbrecht
Jakway, lg.,	lg.,	Robinson
Lawton, rg.,	rg.,	Ross

Goals from floor: Sophomores, Kalin 3, White 1; Juniors, Ross 4, Robinson 2, Reinbrecht 1, Crew 6, Lane 6.

Foul goals, Sophomores, White 5; Juniors, Lane 5.

Senior-Freshman Game

The game between the seniors and freshmen started with a rush, Axtell scoring for the yearling aggregation after the first few scrimmages. A speedy brand of passing and clever guarding completely baffled the seniors and they were never in a position to be dangerous. Whitmore made all the points for the seniors on three free throws, as they did not get a single basket from the floor. Throughout the game long shots seemed to be in order with the seniors but they were not able to locate the cage. Axtell and Ferry amassed most of the points for the freshmen.

Two changes were made in the freshman line up. Carlton played guard in place of Lobo, the latter being sick, and played a good steady game. He and Savage were largely responsible for keeping the seniors in check during the final encounter. Drost jumped center and did good work in breaking up senior rallies.

The summary:

Freshmen (24)		Seniors (3)
Axtell lf.,	rg.,	Geddes
Ferry, rf.,	lg.,	Meacham
Drost, c,	c,	Cohen
Savage, lg	rf.,	Whitmore
Carlton, rg.,	lf.,	Franklin

Goals from the floor: Freshmen, Axtell 3, Ferry 3, Drost 3, Savage 1; Seniors, None.

Foul goals: Freshmen, Axtell 4; Seniors, Whitmore 3.

OUTDOOR CLASS MEET SATURDAY

Outing Club Plans Events for Carnival —Will be Represented at Vermont Tourney

Prompted by a desire to make the best of the recent fall of snow the Outing Club has planned a second of the inter-class winter carnivals introduced here last year for Saturday afternoon. Officers of the club looked over the Noble wood south of the College property and the level plain below it yesterday and as a result Saturday's games will probably be staged on this site which was the scene of last year's meet. The club is arranging the meet in hopes of stimulating interest in winter sports which are becoming immensely popular elsewhere, and also to get a line on possible point-winners for the inter-collegiate meets to be held at McGill and Vermont next week. At a meeting of the Club yesterday it was definitely decided that Middlebury will be represented at the three-cornered state meet between Vermont, Norwich and Middlebury Tuesday in Burlington. If possible, a team will also be sent to Montreal on Saturday to compete in the McGill Winter Carnival.

The events will start promptly at 1:30 and will comprise ski and snowshoe dashes and cross-country runs, an obstacle race and ski-jumping contests. Though no formal announcement has been made of the officials, the names of Coach D. B. Morey and Dean L. I. Bonney were yesterday mentioned in this connection.

As a special feature of the winter program a schedule of interclass hockey games are being arranged to be played on the new high-board rink erected on the campus under the auspices and direction of the Outing Club. None but members of the club who have paid their annual dues will be allowed to use the rink.

Student Government Meeting

At the Student Government meeting Wednesday it was decided to have a tag day in order to raise some money toward the purchase of the men's football sweaters. These tags were sold among the girls Thursday for $.10 and about $19 was collected.

James Anderson Hawes, Yale '84, General Secretary of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity arrived in Middlebury last night to visit at the college for a few days.

MASS. ALUMNI TO BANQUET MAR. 5TH IN SPRINGFIELD

Over Eighty Expected at Annual Meeting— Three From College to Speak

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 12—to The Campus

With the appointment of several committees to complete plans for the annual banquet of the Alumni Association of Western Massachusetts officers of that organization are looking for a record attendance at the yearly gathering in Springfield, March 5. This year's event promises to be of more than usual interest to the local alumni and is counted to draw the support of thirty or more graduates residing in this vicinity as well as that of large delegations from Greenfield, Pittsfield, Westfield, Amherst and as far eastward as Southbridge which should assure an attendance of over eighty.

President John M. Thomas, Dean Luther I. Bonney and a representative of the undergraduate body will come down from Vermont for the occasion. Special interest attaches to the address of President Thomas who will be making his farewell appearance in that capacity before the local alumni. Frederick L. Fish '16 of 70 Catherine St., Springfield, a former football star and athlete of prominence is secretary of the association and in charge of the preparations. Attorney Edward J. Ryan '12 is chairman of the Banquet Committee.

TICKET SALE FOR LAST CONCERT OF SEASON

The last number of the Entertainment Course will be presented in Mead Memorial Chapel Friday, February 25, by the Flonzaley Quartet. Since the inimitable Kneisel ensemble retired from the concert stage a few years ago the Flonzaleys have held undisputed sway as the most authoritative and most musicianly of string quartet music. It is only a few years since the quartet has been appearing publicly, they having started on their musical career as protegees of Mr. Edward J. DeCoppet, a Swiss banker, but in the space of a very short time they have attained world-wide prominence and fame.

Tickets for the performance, at $1.50 each, were placed on sale this morning at the C. O. Frost pharmacy.

satisfactory progress. It is the plan of the Faculty to hold practice debates every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evening at 7:30 in the Old Chapel until the time of the intercollegiate debate. All the men who are trying out for places on the team will be required to be present at each trial debate. These debates will be under the supervision of members of the Faculty, who will direct the preparation of speeches, and the coaching. At present there are in the neighborhood of twenty men who are taking an active part in the competition for places.

Sen. Dillingham to Assist

A table has been reserved on the second floor of the library at the rear of the stacks. All the material on the subject has been assembled here, and new books and material are being added daily. Senator Dillingham, former chairman of the Senate Committee on Immigration at Washington, and Chairman of the special commission which investigated the whole problem in 1907, has offered his aid to the team, and has contributed very valuable facts and evidence.

The first trial debate will be held Tuesday evening, at 7:30, in the Old Chapel, February 15th. Everyone who is to participate in the competition is urged to be on hand promptly. After that date no new contestants for the team will be considered. It is planned to pick the team within a week.

STAFF FOR ENGLISH SCHOOL AT BREAD LOAF APPOINTED

Many Middlebury Faculty Members and Graduates Among Instructors

The Middlebury Faculty and Middlebury graduates will be generously represented on the staff of the special School of English at Bread Loaf in 1921. Dr. Julian W. Abernethy, 1876, a trustee of the College, for many years Principal of Berkeley Institute, Brooklyn, author of widely used textbooks in English and American literature and of other books, and editor of many school classics, will give a series of lectures on "The Teaching of Literature". Dr. Vernon C. Harrington, 1891, author of "Browning Studies", will give a course in "Browning". Dr. and Mrs. Harrington, 1902, will be in charge of the hiking parties on the Long Trail, which are a feature of the life of the School. Professor Everett Skillings, of the Department of English, who has just returned from a year's study at Oxford, will give a course in "The English Language". Mrs. Ruth Murdock Lampson, 1902, of Oberlin College, will give a course in "Short Story Writing" and one in "The Technique of Teaching English". Dr. George T. Smart ,of Newton Highlands, Mass., who was given the honorary degree of D. D. by Middlebury in 1900, will give lectures on "Literary Criticism". Dr. Smart has published several books; he is the literary advisor of the Congregational Publishing Society. Prof. Wilfred E. Davison, 1913, Dean of the School, will give a course in "American Literature". Copies of the preliminary announcements of the School can be obtained at Dr. Collins' office. The management of the School will appreciate it if those who know of people who might be interested to learn of the School will hand their names and addresses to Miss Helen Blanchard at Dr. Collins' office.

Y. W. C. A. Meeting

The topic for general discussion by all the members of the Y. W. C. A. last Thursday night was "Friendship". Edith Sibley '22 began the discussion with a short talk and an appropriate reading upon friendship. Other members presented their views on the topic by means of poems, quotations and the recitals of personal experiences.

Professor W. E. Davison's reading of John Drinkwater's drama "Abraham Lincoln" was enjoyed by an appreciative audience last Saturday afternoon. The reading took place in Old Chapel at four o'clock.

Isabel Bardwell '21 and Barbara Browning '23 spent the week-end in Bristol.

UNDERGRADUATE ASS'N TO CONSIDER HONOR SYSTEM

Indication of the the Student Council's disposition to favor the adoption of the Honor System in examinations was revealed at last night's meeting of the Undergraduate Association in Hepburn Hall. President Darby announced that the Council had already discussed the idea and that some action had been taken by the Faculty. The motion of S. P. Davis '21 to petition the college administration for a postponement of the Spring Recess until Mar. 25, was passed by the men's body after it had been amended to assure no conflict with the training plans of the baseball or track coaches.

Chinese Fund Totals $166.66

A total of $166.66 had been raised last night for the fund for the Chinese Relief Commission. Of this amount $83.53 was contributed by the Men's College and members of the Faculty while canvassers in the Women's College raised the remaining $83.13.
